

Mercury Retrograde

Mercury retrograde in auditing Virgo provides the course correction that begins with the rights of passage to move beyond the prior environments. Situations and circumstances will begin to have delays as the alignment with our ethics, motives and accountability needs to connect in order to move us out of the past and into our future. The revisions slated for August and September review the issues that we experienced as part of the Saturn in Virgo time frame (September 2007 to July 2010) as well as the challenges experienced from the Uranus in Pisces era (March 2003 to June 2010). Virgo relates to the value of right action combined with the accountability factor. Mercury retrograde in Virgo brings information forward that prompts us to review and revise our situations and directions accordingly, utilizing our sense of accountability and right action.

Virgo is an earth sign, emphasizing health and well-being. Also Virgo represents accountability issues within the physical arenas of health and finances. The information that streams into events at this time will provide revisions in business, government and industries that provide health and well-being. Not only does our well-being stem from our physical health, but becomes the focus on a mental, emotional and spiritual level as well. To take responsibility and choose right action and accountability creates the theme for this Mercury retrograde. We will have new information that comes in that requires us to make important adjustments, lining up our health and well-being as reflected in the financial, physical fitness, mental and emotional well-being to bring balance into our day-to-day activities. On a personal level our finances, health and well-being become key elements impacted because of these revisions. Many people will adjust their goals and shift their actions, financial budgets and fitness regimes, all according to the decisions that are revised at this time. Mercury moves into Virgo on July 27th, and turns retrograde on August 20th at 19° Virgo. Mercury is retrograde from August 20th through September 12th. Mercury turns direct at 5° Virgo on September 12th and brings a forward motion to the revised decisions and directions that have emerged.
